Hello I'm Greg Battles. A Falmouth native and part of the 4th generation working in the family business, I spent many summers and after school hours at 14 Depot Ave. After serving my country in the US Army and working in Corporate America – being part of a family business is what resonated most with me. I'm glad to be back in Falmouth and servicing our great community.

Hello I'm David Simpson and I've been in automotive for over 40 years. A graduate of Upper Cape Tech, I've enjoyed working for both franchised dealers and independent garages both as a technician and as a service manager. Out of my diverse positions, 34 of those years have been with the Battles family. I'm someone who enjoys being busy and helping customers has been my passion.

Hello I'm John Trovato and I've been an automotive technician since I was 14 years old. I started in the family's business at Battles Buick GMC in Bourne then moved to NY for high school where I continued working as a quick service technician for Valvoline. After graduating high school, I moved back to the Cape and rejoined our Buick GMC dealership where I mentored a handful of new technicians. The Falmouth business is where my heart was and I've been working here for over 10 years.

Hello I'm Geoff Hicks. I'm a Navy Veteran and long time Falmouth resident. I've worked in automotive for over 45 years on Cape – of which 38 years were managing the Midas shop in town. I worked a few years as a mechanic for Nascar and specialize on classic cars at Battles. If I'm not repairing them – I enjoy demolishing them. I've competed in over 50 demolition derbies and recently came out of retirement (yet again!) to represent Battles in Barnstable County Fair's demolition derby where we raised funds for the non-profit Tommy's Place.

Hello I'm Allen Thackston. I've been an auto technician for 38 years professionally, and slightly longer given I used to race motorcycles as a teen. I'm the former owner/operator of James Ace Auto Repair located at Falmouth Hospital Lights for almost 10 years and a A.S.E. certified master tech. As the “new guy” at Battles Auto, I'm honored to have my name associated with this crew, as I have known them all for many years. Outside of work I enjoy being active with my fellow parishioners at my church and riding my motorcycle when it's warm.

Hello I'm Moon Samari. A native from Morocco, I've lived state side for a number of years. Automotive is in my genes – I've studied in automotive engineering and have over 15 years experience. I've worked both as a technician and as a manager and enjoy fishing, relaxing on the beach and riding motorcycles when I'm not in the shop.

Hello I'm Arinda Bowman. I'm a fifth generation Falmouth resident and have a love for this community and Depot Ave. The rich history and automotive background made working at 14 Depot Ave a perfect home for me. I joined the Battles family seven years ago and help customers in the market for a new or pre-owned vehicle. With 29 years of sales and customer service, it is my pleasure to help!

WOOF! My name is Ollie and I'm Greg's 3 year old Saint Bernard and I think Depot Ave is the best place on the earth. I love meeting new people and welcome belly rubs, high praises and treats when Greg isn't looking. Did I tell you I love the shop ... I really REALLY love the shop :)
